CONDENSED EGGS.

THIS NEW ARTICLE, recently placed upon the Market, consists simply of fresh-laid HENS' EGGS, from which most of the water has been evaporated, and being hermetically sealed, remains perfectly sound.

The EGGS thus condensed are obtained in the Empire of China, and canned in the immediate vicinity in which they are produced, thereby avoiding the deterioration to which EGGS are subjected when transported in the shell. So that, in point of fact, the CONDENSED EGGS preserved under the patent of A. B. DAVIS, furnish to the consumer, EGGS possessing more perfectly the properties of fresh-laid EGGS than those ordinarily supplied to any city.

The CONDENSED EGGS will beat up into light froth as readily as EGGS taken immediately from the shell, and are equally valuable in making Cakes, Custards, Creams, Pastry, Puddings, Egg-Nog, &c., &c.

ECONOMY.

For Hotels, and Restaurants, or for Families, or Vessels at sea, this Article is invaluable, as there is no loss from breakage or decay, and a tin will keep for any length of time after opening, being sealed only for transportation.

One Table-spoonful is equal to one Egg. Add equal amount of water (warm is preferable); dissolve it well; then use same as any Egg.

THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, MONDAY, OCT. 1, 1877.

The announcement by telegraph that the greatest discontent prevails at the Russian headquarters, and that the officers regard success as hopeless, unless the staff is changed, is a pretty strong corroboration of the news that has been received during the last few weeks of the successes of the Turkish armies in Europe. In the papers brought by the last American Mail there was the following significant paragraph: "A despatch from Bucharest says it is reported that the fever epidemic in the Russian army in Bulgaria is increasing. The troops are also in want of food, and they refuse pay unless they receive it in coin of their own country. They threaten to surrender to the Turks unless they are paid in the coin demanded. The present state of affairs in the army is very alarming." Of course no one believes that the Russian troops would surrender to the Turks, however discontented they might be. The smallest spark of patriotism, and their feelings of nationality, would be insuperable barriers to any such act. But discontented men do not fight well, and an army that has lost confidence in its leaders has lost confidence in itself. Judging from the detailed accounts that have been received of the various battles both in Europe and in Asia, we should say that the Russian troops have some cause to complain of their chief leaders. The telegram dated the 26th instant, stating that the Russian centre had on the previous day again attacked Plevna, and again been repulsed, appears to disprove the one dated the 20th September asserting that the attack on that place had been abandoned. Previous to the arrival at Plevna of Turkish reinforcements numbering nearly 30,000 men there is reason to believe that Osman Pasha's position there had become somewhat critical. One recent telegram, for instance, spoke of the blockade and bombardment of Plevna; another of the relief of Osman Pasha, while, unless some anxiety existed regarding the safety of the Turkish forces at the place, the setting out of the reinforcements for Plevna with a convoy of ammunition, their arrival within two hours' march of the town, and finally their entering it, would hardly have been as carefully telegraphed. The probability is that the Russians, heavily reinforced and repulsed in all their assaults on the positions, had endeavored to surround them as far as possible, and had sent strong bodies of cavalry to interrupt communications with the place, especially along the Sophia road, and cut off convoys of provisions and ammunition. Whether the twenty or thirty thousand of newly-arrived troops will be able to change this state of affairs, if it exists, remains to be seen. Presuming that the telegram stating that the Porte will refuse to entertain any proposal for mediation while a single Russian remains in Turkey is based on facts, it is quite evident that the Turks must shortly be made, and consequently will to induce such proposals by brightening up as much as possible the aspect of affairs for themselves, or have every confidence in their power to ultimately drive the Russian armies across the Danube. It is worthy of note that the statement is made immediately after the announcement of the conference between Prince Bismarck and Count Andrássy—a conference which is said to have had for its object "the furthering of European peace."

THE French Mail brings the long expected blue book with reference to the murder of the late Mr. Margary. The two most interesting of the documents are probably Mr. Grosvenor's report giving the results of his mission to Yunnan, and the letter of apology presented by the Chinese Envoy to the Queen. As was anticipated, the results of the tedious and dangerous journey to Yunnan by Mr. Grosvenor and his companions simply amounted to a farce. Mr. Grosvenor complains that the Chinese Commissioners did not produce, or even pretend to produce, a single witness either of the murder or subsequent attack, although it is calculated that about two thousand men were engaged in the latter; and the savages who were represented as having confessed to the murder, and were produced at the trial, made contradictory and impossible statements to members of the Mission, did not exhibit the demeanour of men who had confessed a capital offence, and no doubt had no hand whatever in the deed. Mr. Grosvenor adds: "It is a weary task to indicate the numerous contradictions and impossibilities which comprise the Chinese official case. It would almost seem as if they had not even taken the trouble to make their story consistent. The requirements of time and space are alike outraged." Our London Correspondent refers pretty fully to the despatches in another column. The letter of apology we reproduce in full:—

That Mr. Margary, whilst travelling under passport within the frontier of Yunnan, should have lamentably been murdered, is a fact which not alone involves the question of a lost life, but which also has gone near to disturb our relations of amity and concord. We profoundly regret and lament it. We have now made special appointment of Mr. Sun-giao, an acting Senior Vice-President of the Board of Ceremonies, and one of the Ministers of the Office of Foreign Affairs, as Envoy Extraordinary, to proceed to our Majesty's country to give utterance, on our behalf, to the sentiments we have at heart, as a proof of our genuine desire for amity and concord.

We know Kwong Sung-tao to be an officer of capacity and experience, of loyalty and truthfulness, who is in disposition amicable and just, and far-reaching in intelligence. He has acquired great familiarity in the treatment of affairs between Chinese and foreign Powers. We would ask that sincere confidence be reposed in him, to the end that the blessings of friendly concord may for ever be experienced in the highest degree, and that all alike may enjoy the happiness of a state of peace. This, we doubt not, will be greatly to the satisfaction [of your Majesty].

Nor many months since some skirmishing occurred touching a subject of great public importance, viz., the qualifications of duly-constituted medical practitioners. The skirmishes did not, as was at first expected, develop into open warfare; and probably the public were spared an exhibition, while the parties interested saved their pockets. Whether or not there is any connection between this little bit of local history and the correspondence in reference to diplomas, we are unable to say; but it is evident that the official information now published in the Government Gazette of the 29th was elicited by a despatch dated the 9th of May. In reply to Governor Hennessey, who seeks guidance as regards "the circumstances under which persons holding Foreign Diplomas may be permitted generally to practise in Hongkong," Lord Carnarvon, after referring to a letter from the Board of Trade given below, says:—"It appears to me that in the absence of any special enactment regulating the qualifications of Medical Practitioners, which the circumstances of the Colony have not been deemed to require, there is no direct restriction in the practice of medicine within the Colony by persons purporting to hold Foreign Diplomas." There being no "direct" restriction on such practice, the position of the public here comes to this, that, when they send for medical assistance, they must "see that they get it." It must be admitted, on behalf of the noble profession in question, that—whether from the salubrity of the Colony or the reverse, from the extreme length of its medical bills or their brevity, we cannot say—there has never been a lack of able representatives of the order in this part of the world. The quick element has, therefore, had little or no chance of existing.

The letter from Mr. Theobald Gray, of the Board of Trade to the Under Secretary of State, is as follows:—

Sir, I am directed by the Board of Trade to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 25th ultimo, transmitting by direction of the Earl of Carnarvon, a copy of a Despatch from the Governor of Hongkong, on the subject of the status of Medical Practitioners holding Foreign Diplomas, and requesting to be informed as to the recognition by the Board of Trade of the Certificates of such Practitioners. In reply, I am to state, for the Lordship's information, that the only occasion on which the question of the recognition by this Board of Foreign Medical Diplomas arises, is when a Foreign Surgeon is appointed to the medical care of a British subject, or when a Foreign Surgeon is required to satisfy himself that the Candidate is authorized by law to practise as a Physician, Surgeon, or Apothecary, in the Country to which the subject belongs.

THE WAR.

Despatches from newspaper special correspondents announce, and the Daily News states, that at the Russian Headquarters the greatest discontent and discouragement prevail: the Officers regard success as hopeless unless the staff is changed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE P. & O. S. S. Nizam, with the outward Mails, was expected to leave Singapore for this port yesterday (Sunday morning), the 30th September.

With reference to the Kinahan case H. E. the Governor accompanied by his aide-de-camp paid a visit to the Kinahan this afternoon, and held a consultation with the Harbour Master and Captain Cary. The Hon. Mr. Kewrick and Mr. da Costa (the Secretary) were also present.

The Japanese Consul paid a visit of ceremony to Commodore Watson to-day and received the usual salute.

We understand that H.M.S. Audacious is expected to arrive here in about a week. She is, we believe, at present in Amoy.

We understand that a scratch four-oared race is put down for to-morrow afternoon at 2 past 5 o'clock. The course will be from the Pier and Godown Co.'s Wharf to the Bath-House. The following are the names of the gentlemen composing the rival crews:—Sylph:—Messrs. Schultz, C. V. Smith, Trill, Edger, and Bevis (cox). Thistle:—Messrs. McEwen, Davidson, Shaw, Hynes, and E. Cope (cox). Victoria:—Messrs. Walker, Travers, Bernhard, D. C. Travers, and A. J. Lewis (cox). After the race the preliminary arrangements for the next regatta will be considered.

An inquest was held this afternoon (1st) by Mr. J. Russell, Coroner, with Messrs J. N. Goodman, J. F. Schuster and A. Jorge, as Jury, on the body of Mok Aloy, a shawker 68 years of age, who died of opium poison. Dr. Wharry proved the presence of opium in the stomach, and gave it as his opinion that the deceased died of opium poison. The Jury returned a verdict of suicide by taking a quantity of opium.

Some excitement was occasioned in Stanley Street last night about 9 o'clock by a would-be thief. A man was seen to climb upon the scaffolding in front of a building in course of construction next door to the Temperance Hall and make his way to the roof of the Oriental Dispensary. The alarm was at once given, but fortunately for the adventurer such a noisy demonstration was made that he had timely warning to make good his escape. Several policemen got on the roof, but although a careful search was made the prowler could not be found. He had evidently got upon the verandah of the Temperance Hall and from thence to the roof, as it was found to be broken in several places. How he got down is a mystery, but he was evidently well acquainted with the neighbourhood. We should strongly advise a less noisy search in all future cases of a like nature.

CHINESE firms, says the Rangoon Daily News, import a good deal of Indigo from the Straits, although the dye is manufactured from plants cultivated in Henesad. But the indigenous Indigo is poor compared to that obtained either from the Straits or Bengal, and the Chinese have found this out. We are unable to say in what way the Bengal dye is deemed inferior to that from the Straits. The fact, however, is, Chinese dye prefer the Straits dye.

Latest Mail Arrives.—Yokohama (via San. Fran.) July 31, Shanghai July 1, Foochow June 26, Hongkong July 7. The French mail, with the advices dated as above, from China and Straits Settlements, was delivered, via Marseilles, on the 18th inst., two days early. There are no later advices from Japan. The heavy portion of the Convention, P. & O. mail reached Southampton on the 18th inst. The next inward P. & O. mail, bringing dates Yokohama 4th, Shanghai 6th, Hongkong 14th, Singapore 21st July, left Brindisi on the 22nd inst., and will reach London to-morrow (25th inst.), two days in advance of its due date. The following French mail, bringing a week's later dates, left Suez on the 22nd inst., two days early.

A telegram from Alexandria states that the French war vessel Corvise, now on her voyage from Saigon to Suez, has lost fifty of her crew with cholera, and that 180 are still ill.

The Silver Market is somewhat firmer, at 54½d. per oz. for bars of fine silver. Mexican Dollars have been dealt in at 52½d. per oz., showing no change in value.

The P. & O. Company's steamer Hydaspes, which was despatched from Southampton yesterday with the heavy portion of next outward mails has on board 2674,766 in specie for the East, including for Hongkong, silver, 248,400; Penang, silver, 227,100; Singapore, gold, 210,000; ditto, silver, 27,000; Shanghai, silver, 22,500; Galle, gold, 21,000.

During the week ended the 18th inst. the total quantity of tea delivered from the bonded warehouses in London was 3,594,323 lbs., of which 2,354,477 lbs. was for home consumption, 735,557 lbs. was removed coastwise, 700,111 lbs. was exported, 102,107 lbs. was sent coastwise for exportation, and 4,101 lbs. was for ships' stores. The duty received amounted to 256,612.

The first batch of the second crop black leaf arrived on the 20th inst. per Gordon Castle, which left Hankow on the 28th June, with some eight chops. The leaf is pronounced as being fairly good but the crop is disappointing, and although costing lower than previous years, the teas are not considered up to standard in quality. A portion offered to-day at public sale realised only 1½d. per lb., against a cost of 1s. 0½d. This fact should be taken as a further proof of the absolute necessity that shipments of common teas should entirely cease, seeing the disastrous results of the business which has been going on for the last five years. In other respects the market is much as before reported—teas having some quality still maintaining their position.

More than 28,000 have been realised from the value of the old iron and other material of the screw troopship Adventure, the first iron vessel ever broken up at Chatham dockyard. After deducting the amount paid for wages and other charges a net sum of a little over 28,000 has been realised on the vessel.

The appointments of Mr. Marcus Octavius Flowers, now Her Majesty's Consul at Nagasaki, to be Consul at Higo and Consul of Mr. James Thompson, now Vice-Consul at Nagasaki, to be Consul at Nagasaki; and of Mr. H. S. Wilkinson, to be Vice-Consul at Nagasaki, are gazetted. We understand that no decision has been arrived at in regard to the successor to Sir Walker Macdunn as Consul at Shanghai, or that of Judge Hornby. The amended Order in Council regulating the Courts of China and Japan has not been published. We regret to hear that Mr. Harvey, who was lately appointed to the charge of the Consulate at the new port of Peking, has, through ill-health, been obliged to obtain leave to return to England.

CHINA AFFAIRS AT HOME.

(From our own Correspondent.)

LONDON, Aug. 24th, 1877.

The long-expected Blue Book containing Sir Thom. Wade's memorandum on the Chiao Convention and Mr. Grosvenor's report upon his visit to Yunnan has at last appeared and is about as unsatisfactory as it is possible to conceive. It is rendered clear that the expedition to Yunnan turned out to be a perfect fiasco and that Mr. Grosvenor had, in point of fact, to abandon it as useless. The public both here and in China have so long made up their mind upon this point, that it would scarcely be worth nothing, but that the report which has been sent in is far more adverse to the Chinese than had been imagined even by those least disposed to place confidence in their acting in good faith. The peculiar part of the business however is how the Home Government should have felt justified in holding back the report, entering into the details of the Chiao Convention in its commercial aspect, and in accepting the apology of the Chinese Minister, while aware that no substantial reparation whatever had been made for one of the most serious outrages against our national honour which had ever been perpetrated even in China. Sir Thom. Wade in his memorandum is careful to explain that he pointed out to the Chinese Government that the Margary matter was an international question and came into quite a different category to any questions with reference to the commercial part of the Convention; but it naturally occurs to enquire why he did not entirely separate the two and insist upon the one matter being settled before the other was entered upon. There can hardly be a doubt as to the object which the Chinese had in mixing up the two questions, and there is certainly nothing in verum natura which forms a link of connection between murdering a British official in Yunnan and the collection of Likin duties in Shanghai and other treaty ports; but no doubt the state of affairs was disturbing, and we must not complain if things did not come quite in the usual order and under their appropriate headings. But seriously speaking, the present Blue Book affords plain evidence of the ill-effects of mixing up the two matters, or rather the three matters, as the appointment of the Chinese Minister to London, which specially delighted Sir Thom. forms a subject by itself. The end of it all has been that the Chinese, as far as things have now gone, have really been allowed to get off so far as the Yunnan outrage is concerned with the usual apology (China is great at apologising) with the payment of a small indemnity and the posting of a proclamation. The so-called "Concessions" in the Convention will be of just as much advantage to the Chinese as they will be to us, and even if such a ground could be adopted reasonably at all, cannot, on their merits, be set against the serious international question which was made the occasion by the Chinese of bringing them on the scene. As to the explanations which are given by Sir Thom. Wade of the inferior parts of the Convention, I hardly think many of your readers will have the patience to go through them very carefully at the present stage of proceedings. While undoubtedly giving evidence of talent and thought, they seem to be much wanting in pointedness and practical importance. A few marginal notes upon which doubt has been expressed, such for instance as the Likin duty question, would have been of far more value, and at the present stage of matters would certainly have been much more acceptable generally. To read lengthened disquisitions upon the arguments and proceedings which have led up to the production of an instrument which has been familiar to the public for something like a year, is a very uninteresting and impossible task to think that

THE CHINA REVIEW.

THE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

The CHINA REVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such extra matter.

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance.

The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Customs, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelago and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great attention is also paid to the Review department.

Notes and Replies are classified together as "Notes" (head references being given, when furnished, to previous Notes or Queries), as are also those queries which, though asking for information, furnish new or unpublished details concerning the matter in hand. It is desirable to make the Queries proper as brief and as much to the point as possible.

The China Review for July and August, 1877, is at hand. It says that forty-two essays were sent in to compete for the best paper on the advantages of Christianity for the development of a State. All our learned societies should subscribe to this scholarly and entertaining Review. It is a thirty-page, bi-monthly, repository of what scholars are ascertaining about China. The lecture on Chinese Poetry in this volume is alone worth the price of the Review. Address China Review, Hongkong.—Northern Christian Advocate (U.S.).

Traveller's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:—"This is the title of a publication, the first number of which has lately reached us from Hongkong, where it has been set on foot as in some respects a continuation of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, the extinction of which useful serial a year or two ago has been much regretted in Europe as well as in China. The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, somewhat similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now sedulously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors. In a paper on Dr. Legge's She King, by the Rev. E. J. Eitel, to which the place of honour is deservedly given, an excellent summary is presented of the chronological problems and arguments involved in connection with this important work. Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Besides notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its predecessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intended to appear every two months, and will form a substantial octavo magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL.

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Fifty Cents including postage to other ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper ever issued under purely native direction. The editorial department is conducted by Mr. Ohun Ayn, whose experience and competence have already been most fully demonstrated. The chief support of the paper is of course derived from the native community, amongst whom also are to be found the merchants and seafarers necessary to place it on a business and profitable footing.

The proprietors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan, from Australia, California, Singapore, Penang, Saigon, and other places frequented by the Chinese, consider themselves justified in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 8,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertisers are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of them.

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obscure in tone—in almost limitless. It is on the one hand commensurate Chinese belief and interest while on the other it deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. The English journal it contains Editorials, with Local, Shipping, and Commercial News, and Advertisements.

Subscription orders for either of the above may be sent to
